Commander in Chief Nevins.

The visit of Commander in Chief Nevins to Portland was an exceptional occasion for the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the kindred organizations in this vicinity. It is due to the commander to say that he made friends in Portland on every hand, and this popularity and influence with the members of the Grand Army in this section will henceforth be unbounded. The occasion also demonstrated the popularity of the department commander of Maine, Mr. Woodbury K. Dana, of Westbrook, who whether as host at the luncheon at the Congress Square hotel or during the other festivities always did, as he always does, proved himself the right man in the right place. The Grand Army men will long remember the visit of their commander in chief and if he carries out his expressed wish and comes to Maine during our summer holiday season he will find as warm a welcome as was ever extended to a distinguished visitor in any community.—Portland Express.

The Coming of Lent.

Again Lent comes to us with its opportunities. Let us not drift through the season passively or in a vague aimlessness. Let us make definite resolve and effort and honestly endeavor that our Lent shall be not merely negative, but a season of positive reality. It is the season of penitence. Its keynote is that daily prayer for new and contrite hearts, and it means that by finding and facing out sins, and by confession of sins, we may obtain "that perfect pardon which is perfect peace." Repentance ought to mean for us forsaking of sin and coming home to God. Lent ought to be a time of more prayer and communion with God.

May Lent have its import of reality for us as a diocese. May it mean, throughout our congregations, more appreciation of our Common Prayer and of the privilege of Holy Communion, a renewed loyalty to Christ and His church, a new sense of brotherhood for Christ's sake, and deeper convictions regarding service to our fellow men in His name.—Bishop Chauncey R. Brewster.

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY.

The Cannon Scrap as a Feature of Washington's Birthday—The Mid-Year Meeting of the Trustees.

Middletown, Conn., Feb. 17.—The cannon scrap, the most important interclass contest between the two under classes at Wesleyan, will be held this year on the night of Friday, Feb. 19th. The rules provide that between the hours of 12 and 1 the freshmen shall bring the Douglas cannon on to the campus and shall hold it there for fifteen minutes, the sophomores at the same time trying to prevent them from doing so. The scrap grew out of a custom at Wesleyan, begun in the fifties, of firing the Douglas cannon as a part of the annual Washington birthday celebration. The sophomores attempting to prevent the firing, began the strong interclass rivalry which has come down through the year until, under the present regulations, it has become one of the most unique interclass scraps in the country. This is the most interesting feature of the annual Washington's birthday celebration, to be held this year on Friday and Saturday of this week. It begins Friday afternoon with a basketball game between the alumni and the varsity. In the evening the musical clubs will give their concert in the local theater. At 10:30 there will be another basketball game, one of the New England league series, between Brown and Wesleyan, and at 11 o'clock the cannon scrap. Saturday afternoon there will be an informal college smoker, and in the evening the annual banquet in the gymnasium, one of the most unique things of its kind held in any eastern college. The committee has made arrangements to accommodate over 500 people at the banquet and has secured a very able list of speakers. On the 23rd of February, the varsity basketball team will play Dartmouth at 3:30 in the afternoon, and in the evening the first production of the "Good Natured Man" will be given by the Dramatic Association at Meriden (Conn.). James Francis of Boston has arrived in town and is busily engaged in coaching the cast in final preparation for the first appearance. The annual mid-year meeting of the board of trustees of the college will be held in New York on Friday, Feb. 26th. There will be several important matters decided, the one of most vital interest to the undergraduates being that of coeducation. At the June meeting a resolution was introduced proposing that a separate institution be established in Middletown for women. The direction of the university authorities. The matter will be decided next week. The time of the inauguration of President-elect Shanklin will also be determined.

The Skin Game.

Not long ago, in one of our neighboring cities, a carriage suit was brought against a "dermatological institute" for facial deformities resulting from an attempt to obliterate a woman's wrinkles by the use of paraffin. The American Journal of Surgery, commenting upon this, but without mentioning the death by suicide of Dr. Woodbury, goes on to sound a warning against the abolition of wrinkles by the use of paraffin by the "beauty specialist" who preys on the vanity of those who do not know that "paraffin prothesis" is a dangerous sort of an operation in the hands of those who are not up to the requirements of an exact technique. The Journal thinks that the cosmetic injections should have their limitations, and that even in the hands of the careful practitioner it is nothing less than a risky business to try to "cure" wrinkles. But the "beauty specialist" will continue to "obliterate" the grow tracks.—Hartford Times.

New Haven.—Frederick Weld of this city, baritone soloist at St. Bartholomew's church in New York, has been engaged by Frank Damrosch to sing the part of the father, the principal male part in Humperdinck's opera, "Hansel and Gretel," to be given in concert form at Carnegie hall, New York, February 27.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Nuisance to Be Stopped.

Mr. Editor: I have received by this morning's mail an anonymous letter containing a prayer alleged to have been written and sent out by the Right Rev. William Lawrence, D.D., bishop of Massachusetts, with the request that the recipient send a copy of the same on nine consecutive mornings to nine other people, thus forming an endless chain. Accompanying the prayer is a promise that by complying with the request, the agent in this plan will experience some great joy, and by failing to comply will be in danger of great calamity. This letter first made its appearance some years ago. It was promptly denied by Bishop Lawrence that he had had anything to do with it, and he requested that anyone receiving it would ignore the superstitious request and thus aid in putting an end to the progress of the fraud. If I mistake not, the matter has already been commented upon in the columns of The Bulletin, and the truth there stated. But as the nuisance has evidently not yet been stopped, I ask that you will publish this statement in the hope that the ending of an annoying matter may be hastened thereby.

NATIONAL HOUSE.

Republicans Caught Napping—Legislative Appropriation Bill Controversy.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The controversy over the legislative appropriation, on account of the much discussed salary of the secretary of state, involving the eligibility of Senator Knox for that office, was settled in the house of representatives today when the bill was sent to conference and the committee was authorized to consider the salary provision as if in disagreement. This gives the committee power to reduce the pay for the office from $12,000 to $8,000, its former figure. The republicans were caught napping when a resolution by Mr. Fitzgerald was adopted disagreeing with the senate amendments creating the office of under secretary and fourth assistant secretary of state. The bill codifying and amending the penal laws of the United States, was passed, and the fortification appropriation bill was discussed.

Vigorous attacks on the house rules were made by Messrs. Hubbard and Hepburn of Iowa. The latter asserted that members had betrayed their trust and prostrated themselves at the feet of the speaker, who, he said, had been made a tyrant. The bill was pending when the house took a recess until tomorrow morning.

Increase in Number of New Haven Road Stockholders.

New Haven, Feb. 18.—Official communications of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. show that during the last fiscal year the total number of stockholders has risen from 14,139 to 15,983. The number of stockholders in Massachusetts has risen from 7,392 to 8,181; in Connecticut from 2,115 to 2,472 and in New York from 1,896 to 2,197 the rest of the increase coming in Rhode Island and other states and countries.

January 25, this year, St. Whitaker Miss. Bess, alderman of the city of London, reached his 80th milestone. He "passed the chair"—in other words was lord mayor—the year Queen Victoria dedicated Epping Forest to the use of the public in perpetuity.
